3 Highwaymen Who Held Up Driver In Greenville Arrested

Three young men, Clyde Cole, 20, of Washington and Baltimore, said to be the leader, and Melton Keenum and Oscar Roberts of Georgia went into a taxicab office in Greenville Monday and ordered a taxi. When about six miles out of Greenville they held the driver up with a toy pistol and put him out of the yellow cab; then they drove off. They passed through Polk county about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rutherford officers co-operating with Polk county sheriff and deputies found the highwaymen about 10 a. m. in Rutherford county where they were stalled trying to start the cab which had its gears stripped. The men were brought to Columbus jail and pled guilty. Said it was their first offense. Greenville county officers and a mechanic came for them Tuesday night.

Radio Broadcast About Mortgages

"The steps which the Federal Home Loan Bank Board is taking to relieve home mortgage distress, to encourage more liberal mortgage terms to home owners not in distress, and to insure the savings of investors held in private thrift and home financing institutions, will be discussed in a radio broadcast from Washington Thursday night over the red network of the National Broadcasting System at 10:30
