A ONE-MAN FILIBUSTER

Washington, June 12.—Gripped by a record-smashing, one-man filibuster, staged by Senator Long (Democrat) of Louisiana, Democratic leaders tonight held their followers in line for an all-night endurance contest in a determination to pass the buffeted resolution extending a remnant of NRA.

Long, husky but still shouting held the weary, but angry Senate in session hour after hour as he talked on and on in an effort to force adoption of a "rider" to the resolution. It would require Senate confirmation of all Federal employees receiving over $4,000 a year. This, he contended, would give him a hand hold against the New Deal's anti-Long patronage appointments in Louisiana.

At midnight, when the lavender-shirted Long had talked for more than 11 hours almost without a break, veteran senators went so far as to call his filibuster the greatest exhibition of physical endurance in the Senate's legislative history.

More than 50 sleepy eyed senators loafed around the chamber or slumbered in their chairs while the Louisianan entertained crowded galleries with stories, wise cracks, quotations from the Bible and attacks on the administration.

In his first eleven hours of continuous speaking Long had only two five minute respites in his talk marathon.

Although some of the old filibusters had talked longer by the clock. Senate historians asserted

LAST RITES FOR G. B. HAMPTON

Hendersonville, June 12.—Gray B. Hampton, 78, for the past five years a resident of Hendersonville, died at his home here after an illness of only two days.

Mr. Hampton came here from Landrum, S. C., where he lived for about 25 years and was prominently identified with the affairs of that city, having served several terms as mayor. He was a merchant in Landrum for many years.

Mr. Hampton is survived by one brother, C. C. Hampton of Tryon. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hampton of Columbus, N. C., and a brother of the late J. W. Hampton, Jr., sheriff of Polk county for 16 years.

Mr. Hampton was active in the church life of Hendersonville and an officer of the First Baptist church.

Funeral services will be conducted at the First Baptist church by the pastor at 4 p. m. tomorrow (Thursday). Interment will follow in the churchyard. — Spartanburg Herald.

Tryon Building

Not since the boom days has Tryon interested so many home-seekers. This time there is no promotion work being done by real estate sub-divisions. The people themselves are coming to see and to conquer. With a delightful year round climate and a distinctive personality of its own this community has no equal in its field of attractions.
