To Install New Rotary Officers

The installation of new officers for the Tryon Rotary club will take place Friday at 1 p. m., at Lake Lanier Inn with Douglas S. Blois in charge of the program. The outgoing president, the Rev. C. P. Burnett, will turn the gavel over to the new president, Dr. B. B. Bishop, Jr. Other officers are F. P. Bacon, vice-president and Dudley Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Rites Will Be Held Today for O. L. Bachelder

Candler, June 26.—Last rites for O. L. Bachelder, 82, Candler notter, who was better known as "Omar Khayyam," who died at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home after an illness of three months, will be held at 2 o'clock today (Thursday) afternoon.

At the request of Mr. Bachelder, expressed sometime ago, the services will be conducted by friends and neighbors, one of whom he asked to read the Sermon on the Mount. The services will be conducted at the grave which is on a hill on the farm of Mr. Bachelder's closest friend, R. F. Gudger. This site, which was selected by Mr. Bachelder, commands a beautiful view of the surrounding mountains.—Asheville Citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cathey of Tryon attended the funeral services this afternoon.

Floods Sweep Drought Area In Middle West

Des Moines, Iowa, June 26.—The Middle West, burned by drought and choked by dust last year, tonight counted three dead and extensive crop and property damage from torrential rain.

Flood waters swirled in Iowa and Missouri. Downpours ranging up to three inches fell in Kansas. General rains saturated the Midwest.

Harvest and planting delays caused by excessive precipitation swept grain prices upward on the Chicago market. There the situation was termed "alarming."

Ninety minutes brought a downpour of 2.9 inches at Council Bluffs and Omaha. Officials called out snow plows to scrape the mud and debris from the pavement.

The muddy Missouri crept to within 16 inches of flood stage at Rulo, Mo. If it reaches a stage of 11 feet near the mouth of the Nemaha river, disastrous floods will result.

Many buildings, normally high above the Missouri river at Rulo, were accessible only by boat. Thousands of acres of land were under water.—Asheville Citizen.

Bud Mills Dead

Bud Mills for many years a faithful colored employee of the Town of Tryon died early Wednesday morning. Funeral arrangements pending the arrival of some of his children from Washington.
