BODY OF GIRL, 17, TAKEN FROM LAKE

Drowning of Pearl Gosnell
In Lake Lanier Termed
Suicide by Coroner.

The body of Pearl Caroline Gosnell, 17, of Landrum, who had been missing since she left the home of her brother, George E. Gosnell, Jr., Tuesday about 4:15 p. m., was found in Lake Lanier a few feet south of the North Carolina line yesterday morning.

Coroner George W. McCoy of Greenville county conducted an investigation and termed the drowning a suicide. He said no inquest would be necessary. An autopsy was performed, and no signs of violence were said to have been discovered. Death had been caused by drowning, the coroner said.

The young woman was said to have left the home of her brother saying that she would visit her sisters, Mrs. Joe Johnson and Mrs. Alvin Johnson of Saluda, N. C. When she failed to appear, a search was begun. The last known persons found who saw her were a group of motorists who said they passed her near the upper entrance to the lake between 6 and 7 p. m., Tuesday.

The body was found, completely clothed, floating in the lake by Z. M. Netherton, superintendent. It was lodged against the dam about 10 feet from the shore. Greenville county officers arrived about 2 p. m., and the body was removed from the lake half an hour
