Mrs. Schiele Honored

Mrs. R. M. Schiele, wife of Scout Executive Schiele of the Piedmont, district and herself a dyed-in-the-wool Boy Scout—odd as that may seem—is powdering her nose in place and out of place these days. And, since she's the busiest and the least vain of all women, her friends just couldn't understand the change in her until they learned that she'd just been given a swell new compact by the American Legion Auxiliary in recognition of her fine work in Americanism. The compact is complete with the auxiliary insignia, and nobody could blame Mrs. Schiele for flourishing it about.

A special meeting was arranged Wednesday in her honor, with high-ups in the organization present—Mrs. C. P. Andrews, of Charlotte, and Mrs. L. P. Frans, of Hickory.

Incidentally, Mr. and Mrs. Schiele have been bounding about all week like Mexican jumping beans, moving Boy Scout headquarters from West Main avenue to the first floor of the Masonic Temple. It's going to be a grand, roomy place for Scout work, and Mr. Schiele will have the luxury of a private office.—Charlotte Observer of Sunday.
