THE HORSE SHOW

The results of the Horse Show on Wednesday will be published in this week's issue of The Polk County News. The Asheville Citizen of today published four interesting pictures of the show. The results of the Hound Show as reported by Wilton Garrison, sports editor of the Spartanburg Herald, will also be published in The News this week. The exhibitors, committee chairmen and out-of-town guests were entertained at a buffet breakfast today noon at Pine Crest Inn.

Tennis Tournament Starts On Saturday

The annual men's tennis tournament of the Tryon Tennis Association will start Saturday at the Tryon Country club. All members of the club are eligible and non-members may enter the tournament by paying the regular 25c admission for using the court. The drawing will be published in Friday's Bulletin. Anyone interested should notify John Washburn. Phone 73-W.

April 6th.

Dear Mr Vining,

I was so sorry to hear of your disastrous storm. We, alas, have also returned to winter, and we hold very feeble hopes for a sunny Easter. A strong north wind has blown all the blossoms off the trees, and the long bank of daffodils which lines the East Drive of Hyde Park is already looking very moth-eaten. Perhaps, now that I come to think of it, it IS moth-eaten! The lights of the Dorchester Hotel next door to it in Park Lane are bright enough to draw every moth in Middlesex to the neighborhood.

London is getting ready for a general exodus to the country, and the country is getting ready for a general exodus to London. The toy-shops are a riot of Easter eggs tied up in ribbon; rabbits with collapsible ears; fluffy yellow chickens with unscrewable heads, and chocolate lined interiors; and large sleek chocolate fishes carefully slit down the middle, filleted, and full of sweets. It seems incredible how the average child survives!

Monday is Bank Holiday, which means a holiday for everyone all over the country. The working man therefore, who is free from Saturday afternoon to Tuesday morning, prays for fine weather, without which he cannot indulge in his favorite pastimes: a) picnicking on the very edge of England's highways, in order to savour to the full the delicious petrol-laden air. b)
