Forest Fires Burning On Tryon Mountain

Several thousand acres of forest land has been burning the past few days, and Warden R. B. Williams and about a dozen men have been fighting fire day and night. The Tryon Riding & Hunt club which maintains 500 miles of bridle paths and trails sent eight men and food to the rescue yesterday. Last night Tryon mountain ridge was lighted with a million candles. The destruction of so much mountain forest is distressing to all nature lovers and the Tryon club is doing all it can to cooperate with the land-owners in helping to preserve the beauty of their property.
