Rev. C. P. Burnett Resigns as Rector Of Holy Cross

To the Wardens and Vestry of
The Church of the Holy Cross:

We have worked and worshipped together for fourteen years,— years rich in fellowship and accomplishment. I have just passed my seventieth birthday and the time has come for me to lay down my responsibilities as Rector of this Parish. Accordingly I herewith hand you my resignation, to take effect November 1, 1936. This will give you ample time in which to secure my successor, and also allow me an opportunity to complete arrangements for my retirement.

It is with the deepest satisfaction that I realize that this retirement from active service does not mean the termination of our close and friendly intercourse. Mrs. Burnett and I will still be members of the Parish and enjoy the many friends we have made during these happy years.

With all my heart I want to express my appreciation of the kindness and co-operation I have received from you and the other members of the Parish during these fourteen years. May the richest blessing of our Heavenly Father rest upon you and the work of the Parish.

Affectionately, your Friend and Rector,

(Signed) C. P. Burnett.

Cowan's Store Has Third Anniversary

Like a John Wannamaker or Horatio Alger story reads the growth of Cowan's Grocery, which is celebrating this week its third anniversary. Beginning three years ago with what looked like a handful of groceries, Mr. Cowan started running 30c ads in The Bulletin and drummed up customers, then he installed a telephone and put in a delivery service with a mule and cart, soon he changed to a second-hand truck, increased his merchandise and added a meat market. Not long ago he bought a new Chevrolet truck and bought half interest in the Tryon Cafe. He keeps an up-to-date store well-stocked with a full line of groceries, fruits, vegetables and meats. He feels now that he can serve your food any way—at the store, delivered to your home, or prepared and cooked at his restaurant next door.

At Scouter Convention

Dr. A. J. Jervey, Nelson Jackson, Jr., and Seth M. Vining attended the Piedmont Scouter convention at Hickory Thursday evening. Mr. William C. Wessel, a director of the National Scout organization was the chief speaker and he urged the promotion of an organization called Cubs for the younger boys of pre-Scout age from 9 to 12. There are 3,600,000 boys of this group needing guidance in "gang" activities. Officials are beginning to realize that it is equally as important as the Boy Scout movement and will be the stepping stone for younger boys into Scout work.
