

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(The Smallest Daily Newspaper In The World)

Vol. 9, Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., WED., AUGUST 26, 1936.

Tryon School Opens Thursday, Sept. 17

Superintendent W. A. Schilletter of the Tryon District School system announced Wednesday that the local schools at Tryon and Lynn would open Thursday, Sept. 17th at 9 A. M. for the 1936-37 session. Dr. George F. Taylor, of the Converse college departments of Biblical literature and philosophy will deliver the chief address.

On this day all pupils are requested to report to their class rooms. They will march from there to the auditorium for the short opening exercises. All patrons are cordially invited to attend this program. After the exercises the pupils will return to their class rooms to receive a schedule of work, book list, lesson assignments and other necessary instructions.

Pupils entering these schools for the first time, except first grade pupils, are asked to register at the superintendent's office for classification on Tuesday and Wednesday morning, September 15th and 16th, from 9 to 12 a. m. It is desired to have all pupils classified and assigned to grades before school opens.

One new teacher is on the Tryon faculty. Miss Evelyn Carruth of Jandrum succeeds the former Miss Mary Jane Andrews as teacher of the sixth grade.

A new staff at Lynn includes A. Frank Hamrick of Ellenboro as principal and teacher of fifth and sixth grades; Miss Bessie Hel-

(Continued on page three)

Town Manager Speaks Over the Radio Thursday

Town Manager C. H. Helms of Tryon will deliver an address on Polk county on Thursday at 7:45 p. m., over the Asheville radio station WWNC. Everyone interested in Polk county resources are invited to listen in. The Times will publish a page advertisement about Polk county Thursday afternoon and the Citizen will have a page on Friday morning.

LOCAL BOYS MAKE GOOD

Fort Bragg, N. C., Aug. 25.—The degree of training and the proficiency of the candidates themselves were demonstrated at the Citizens' Military Training Camp last night when the candidate officers took over the command of the Regiment and conducted Retreat Parade before General Manus McCloskey, commanding Fort Bragg and the C. M. T. C., Major R. A. Gordan, Camp Commander, and other high ranking officers.

The ability with which the candidates handled their commands indicate that the C. M. T. C. is fulfilling its intended purpose, that of being a source of officer material for the Officers' Reserve Corps, in a highly efficient manner.

Two Polk county boys selected for the officers staff were Commander Billie B. Byers of Battery "C" and Commander James R. Harbour of Battery "E".