Vol. 9, Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., THURSDAY, OCT. 22, 1936

They Traded

A number of Bulletin readers have asked the editor how David Nevin, the movie actor, guest of the M. B. Flynns, knew from whom to buy a second hand car. Well, it was this way: Mr. Nevin left Los Angeles by plane on Saturday night; arrived in Nashville, Tenn., Sunday noon. When he found that Nashville, Tenn., was not close to Tryon and that he would have to wait three hours before another plane was due he asked the taxi driver who brought him from the airport if he knew of anyone wanting to sell a second-hand car. The taxi driver carried him to a man who was in church and he bought from the man an old Oldsmobile which was parked in front of the church. He took the man's overcoat out of the car, put it on the ground and sped on to Tryon, reaching here late Sunday night. From California to Tryon over the week-end! Mr. Nevin is enjoying a two week's visit. Friends here are trying to get for the local theatre some of the pictures in which Mr. Nevin has been playing.
