Sen. R. R. Reynolds Speaks In Columbus

Senator Robert R. Reynolds will address the citizens of Polk county tonight at 7:30 at the courthouse in Columbus. This will be the first public address the Senator has made in Polk county in several years. He has a lot of friends in both parties who helped give him a big majority when he ran for the Senate on a repeal program. Last year he made a tour of the United States in an auto trailer as a method of educating the public to the possibilities of seeing America first at moderate expense. The public is invited to hear him.

Such people do not know that the vast majority of Germans who went to her colonies before the war and are now staying there under British or Belgian rule, these German settlers DO NOT WANT to be returned to Germany now that it is Nazi, they do not want to be under Hitler.
