

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(The Smallest Daily Newspaper In The World)

Vol. 9. Est. 1-31-28 · TRYON, N. C., TUESDAY, NOV. 3, 1936

George Rhodes

Funeral services for George Rhodes, former Polk county citizen who died at Anderson, S. C., on Monday evening at 9 o'clock, will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lynn Baptist church with the Rev. D. M. McGeachy officiating. The pallbearers will be his nephews: George Fisher, Jack Fisher, D. M. Hawkins, Clarence Rhodes, Fred Cairnes, Herbert Rhodes.

Important Dates

"Thank You, Jeeves" the David Niven picture will be at the Tryon theatre on Friday.

Tryon and Waynesville high schools will play football at Waynesville on Friday. This will be a hard fought game between two champion teams.

Ruth Draper, the noted monologist will give a performance at Tryon's Theatre on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Tickets $2 and .50. May be bought from Miss Adine's Pharmacy or John L. Washburn.

HEADLINES

Rebel planes again bomb Spanish capital. Several children killed.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon for Edgar Dodd, radio announcer of Spartanburg WSPA, who was stabbed in the right lung and artery next to his heart with an ice pick in the hand of a negro at a Spartanburg soda shop on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Dodd was well known in this section.

TODAY'S NEWS

Mostly about the election.

All Polk county precincts are crowded with candidates, voters and the usual hangers-on. The Bulletin was printed early today in order to allow two of its printers to join the ranks of the hangers-on. The editor hopes both of them will be able to hold their heads up tonight. There is no stock report on account of the New York Stock Exchange being closed. Election returns will be received all during the day and far in the night over the radio stations and there is no need for this newspaper to operate a Bulletin Board. President Roosevelt and all the other candidates made their final speeches over the radio last night. The President went to his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., to vote today.

A man walked into the bank at Landrum and cried out: "Hurrah, for Landrum." The banker said, "What?" The man said there is no harm in boosting your home town." The banker said I thought you said Landon."

Fair weather for this election has been predicted for most all of Dixie. Betting odds in New York increase in favor of Roosevelt.

Many fall tourists from over the East and Midwest are visiting the mountain section of Western North Carolina which is now so beautiful with the fall colorings. White your friends to visit Tryon within the next few days so they can enjoy the beautiful scenery.

Polling places will begin closing today at 3 p. m., in some rural sections of Georgia and will continue closing all over the United States until 10 p. m., in Rhode Island and Pacific Coast states.