Football On Friday

The Tryon-Saluda team is in excellent shape for the battle with the high-stepping Mars Hill team. The players have been lucky so far this season in having a minimum number of injuries. All the team will be ready to give the visitors a real battle and try and bring the championship of the Blue Ridge Conference to Tryon.

Yesterday the Tryon - Saluda "B" team lost a close decision to the Hendersonville "B" team at Hendersonville 7 to 6. The Tryon-Saluda boys outplayed the Hendersonville team all the way and it was only through the air that they were scored upon. Tryon-Saluda made its touchdown when Holbert grabbed a Hendersonville fumble out of the air and raced for a touchdown. The work of G. Foster at end and F. Shields in the backfield was particularly outstanding. J. L. Shields played an excellent game at tackle.

On Thursday, the Tryon Junior team plays Judson. The game last Thursday was rained out and was changed to this week. A small admission will be charged. The last game ended 12 to 0 in favor of Judson.

Charles Edison, president of the Edison company was appointed assistant secretary of the Navy on Tuesday by President Roosevelt.

Ordway Horses Take 2 More Prizes at Show

The following clipping from the Battle Creek (Mich.) newspaper will be of interest to Mrs. Ordway's friends in Tryon:

"Appetizer, handsome hunter from Mrs. Donald P. Ordway's Long Beach stables at Gull lake, captured the Wharton Memorial trophy at the National Horse Show in Madison Square Gardens, New York City Sunday evening. Appetizer placed first in the ladies' open hunter class to win one of the most important victories for horses from middle-western stables, in past years in background of the show.

"Wilmer, another Long Beach stable entry, placed third in the same class. Appetizer won out over a class of 33 horses, including entries of Mrs. John Hay Whitney, always one of the foremost contenders for national honors, and those of the Guggenheim and Untermyer stables. The Ordway horses have won five ribbons so far, among the more than 2,000 entries in the show."
