Guests of Flynns

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hatherway of England will arrive in Spartanburg this evening by airplane from California for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Flynn at their country home, "Little Orchard." Mr. Hatherway was a college mate of "Lefty" when they attended Yale. Mrs. Hatherway enjoys an unusual distinction. She is the ruler of the only feudal island in the world, according to Harper's Bazaar magazine. It is the island of Sark, one of the Jerseys in the English Channel, four miles long and a half mile wide. It is a rugged, picturesque kingdom in miniature, fascinating, unspoiled. There are no automobiles or electricity. On the island Mrs. Hatherway is Dame de Sercq and holds her title under letters patent granted by Queen Elizabeth. She has absolute power over the island and pays to the English king who is the Duke of Normandy, fifty shillings a year. The people of the island are mostly French, and the island church services are conducted in the morning in English and in the evening in French.

Dance Tonight

A combination dance will be given tonight at the Tryon school gymnasium with music furnished by Leonard and Brock over the McElhenny sound system.

The Christmas Operetta, "The Cross Patch Fairies", will be given Friday night at 7:45 at Stearns school auditorium in Columbus. The cast will be in costume.

Musical Broadcast

One of the most interesting Christmas Musical Pageants in this country is that of Hoosac School For Boys, near Troy, N. Y.

Edward Dudley Tibbits founded the school forty-five years ago and patterned its spirit after his old school, St. Paul's of Concord, N. H. They built the church and gave it bells and stained glass from old England.

Dr. Tibbits made a collection of rare carols, and provided the boys and masters with costumes of Elizabethan England for the pageant of song that he so dearly loved. Ralph Erskine taught in the school for six years and annually sang the Boar's Head Song, Caput Apri Defero.

This year the entire program will be broadcast nationally from four to five p. m., on Friday, Dec. 18. It can be heard on the Asheville station, as from WJZ, New York and the blue network.
