Strong Statement

The condensed statement of the Tryon Federal Savings & Loan Association published on another page of today's bulletin shows remarkable growth and strength for this new financial institution which is only 14 months old. The organization has made it possible for many local people to build and own their own homes and it has provided a safe method for investing our surplus money or savings at the highest rate of interest possible under government protection. At the same time business in general has been greatly stimulated by the employment of men in the building trades. The advertisement lists in the first column of figures a statement of the assets and liabilities of 1935 and in the second column the resources to date which in the 14 month period increased from $21,235.00 to $73,514.65. The directors of the TFS&LA are F. P. Bacon, president; M. R. McCown, secretary-treasurer; W. S. Green, J. B. Hester, Jr., and John G. Landrum. Since organization investors have received 4 per cent on their money. All shares are insured up to $5,000 by the Federal Savings & Loan Corp., Washington, D. C.
