By Bertha Blackwell

Tryon Athletic girls and boys met the Inman Mills girls and boys Tuesday night on the Inman court. The girls tied with a score of 18-18. Miss Lillian Ballard, one of Tryon's star players is suffering a fractured elbow as a result of a fall while playing. The boys lost by a score of 29-25.

There will be a double-header on the local court Thursday night at 7:30. The Tryon Athletic girls will play the Columbus school girls and the boys will play the Lendrum town boys. Both games promise to be interesting

On Trade Street

The Ellison Plumbing & Heating office in the lobby of the theatre building is being remodeled and turned into a bathroom fixture display with "tile" walls, etc., and signs have been erected announcing the location of the show room.

The Postal Telegraph - Cable office which advertised in the Bulletin an extension of its service hours from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m., has just put down some pretty new floor covering. Spring is here and Manager G. E. Bell says it is time to dress up.

A new "financially" looking bronze sign marks the entrance to the Tryon Federal Savings & Loan office near the outer stairway at the Hester building. This organization is one of the fastest growing in the community and is offering an opportunity for local people to invest their savings at a good rate of interest with government protection. At the same time it makes it possible for people to own their own homes and in the meantime furnish employment for a lot of other people.

The store room next to Slack's Pharmacy is being repainted and remodeled for Peeler's Jewelry store which will move soon from the Hester building. Mr. Peeler's business has grown by degrees every year since he has been in Tryon and he now owns a home here.

Cowan's Sandwich Shop which recently moved to Maple street under the A&P has erected a large sign to swing over the corner at Trade street.
