BACON'S POLK BILLS BLOCKED

T. J. McDowell Opposed Measures Sponsored By Senator

Raleigh, March 13.--Representative T. J. McDowell, of Polk, has introduced only three bills--two for Madison county and one state-wide, but he has blocked three measures in the house sought by his colleague Senator F. P. Bacon, of Polk.

The house calendar committee, at the request of Representative McDowell, killed Senator Bacon's bills to provide for the election of the tax collector for Polk county, and to reduce the term of office of the Polk county board of commissions. County officials came to Raleigh last week and requested the representative to kill them.

The first bill, SB-284, would provide for the election in 1938 and biennially thereafter of a tax collector at a salary of $1,500.

The second measure--SB 285--would terminate the office of the present commissioners on the first Monday in December, 1938, and provide for the election of three commissioners in the general election in 1938; the candidate receiving the highest number of votes for four years and the others for two years each.

Also at Representative McDowell's request, the house committee on elections killed Senator Bacon's bill to restrict absentee voting in Polk county to national and state officers, and prohibit it
