SAVING SOILS

1. Progress comes when thrifty farmers care for fertile lands.

2. The farmer who lets his soil erode is stealing from his children and grandchildren.

3. Probably no nation ever wasted its soil resources as rapidly as we are wasting ours.

4. It is estimated that the loss of fertility from soil erosion is about twenty times as great as from crop removal.

5. The conservation of soil is a primary requisite for the continuance of human life.
