

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(The Smallest Daily Newspaper In The World)

Vol. 10, Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 16 1937

"CURB" REPORTER

New Desoto comes up to the curb driven by J. N. Jackson's chauffeur . . . C. J. Lynch and Col. Dan Boone talking . . . Movement on foot to complete the Negro swimming pool started sometime ago . . . Fred Buchanan scratching his head. Has so many things in his dime store he doesn't know what to display in the window . . . Jimmy Little is in the market for the job of tutoring anybody in English this summer . . . Senator Francis Bacon, who has been fishing off and on for the past fifty years and never caught anything was seen to pull two nice bass out of the water in Green Creek the other day . . . Card from Mrs. Brady's sister, Mrs. H. B. Watkins, written from California where she is touring the west. Picture card not inviting. It's of Alcatraz federal prison . . . The Bulletin was late Thursday. Somebody without permission borrowed our melting pot and we spent a lot of time inquiring in the neighborhood before we found it. We had to melt metal to make the picture for that "diamond" ring in Slack's advertisement . . . President Roosevelt to continue fight for re-organization of Supreme Court and wants bill passed at this session . . . 1,500 sailors still looking for Amelia Earhart . . . Dr. Lincoln lost his trousers sometime

----- Continued on back page -----

Pacolet Knitting Co. Dyeing Dept. Is Destroyed by Fire

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the dyeing department of the Pacolet Knitting Company at Lynn last night. The fire was discovered about 12 midnight by Nightwatchman Ballard, who at once gave an alarm. The blaze had made such headway by the time help arrived that all efforts were futile.

The loss consists of the dyeing department, machinery, dyes, cotton waste, salt, etc.

It is not known whether the loss was covered by insurance or not.

Miss Bland, Registrar

Miss Virginia Bland has been appointed registrar of vital statistics for the Town of Tryon and for Tryon Township. Dr. R. T. Stimpson, State Director of Vital Statistics states that Miss Bland's work was very satisfactory. Her duties require the recording of births and deaths of all people in the township.

Dance Tonight

The biggest social affair of the week comes off tonight with the dance at Sunnysdale Log Cabin. Tenny Freck orchestra will furnish the music and the big apple will be an added feature of the occasion.