WAR NEWS

Chinese foil Jap efforts to bring up fresh troops. Eight Japanese troopships flee before heavy artillery fire. Shanghai faces grave situation. Terrific battle rages at door of foreign settlement.

Shanghai, Sept. 4. — Japan's formidable war machine around Shanghai was stalled today by a Chinese counter-offensive, but its leaders declared it would strike again soon with increased ferocity.

The Japanese threat, proclaimed by the imperial navy's third fleet, promised fresh perils as great as any this stricken city has faced in the three weeks' bloody but undeclared war has surged through and around it.

Already the war has returned with renewed destructiveness and danger to foreign lives and interests within international Shanghai as the Chinese struck effectively with artillery at Japanese naval concentrations on the Whangpoo river, Shanghai's outlet to the sea.
