

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(The Smallest Daily Newspaper In The World)

Vol. 10, Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., MONDAY, SEPT. 13, 1937

Prominent Lawyer At the Kiwanis Club

J. Hertz Brown, prominent Spartanburg attorney and authority on Constitutional law, will address the Tryon Kiwanis club on Tuesday at 1 p. m., at Hotel Tryon. The address will be the chief feature of the club's observance of Constitutional Week which is part of the Kiwanis club program every year throughout the United States.

(Harmon Field Note Due Soon.)

Methodist Revival

Got off to a good start. Some of our people will be better citizens, better churchmen and happier more useful Christians when this meeting is history. Will you be one of these? Better decide now. Christ can use all fully surrendered people. He calls for the dedication of the entire man including pride, ambitions, desires, and even our opinions. To be happy and useful in His kingdom means we must come to Him as little children, willing to go where He leads. There is no other way to a religious experience that gives a deep satisfaction and peace.—(Contributed).

(Harmon Field Note Due Soon.)

Married Saturday

Justice of the Peace R. A. Leonard performed a marriage ceremony Saturday afternoon about 3:30 uniting Theodore M. Jones of Saluda and Miss Kate S. DuBosh of Florence, S. C.

"CURB" REPORTER

The printer missed a line on Friday in writing about M. A. Richards. The line called attention to the fact that Mark is looking younger, healthier with a happier ring in his voice . . . Chinese and Japs are fighting fiercest battle of war around Tientsin, China. . . . The Japs are now predicting a long war . . . Germany and Italy are in a quarrel with Russia . . . The Sunday school lesson in last week's Polk County News says: "A Nation Needs Religious Homes." . . . The Tryon Chamber of Commerce is endorsing the movement to widen the Pacolet River bridge . . . One week of school is gone, only 35 more . . . Phil Windsor is wearing a monocle. . . . Mrs. Florence Averill has moved her sewing department to the Helen Harwood Shop . . . "Our antagonist is our helper. This amicable conflict with difficulty obliges us to an intimate acquaintance with our object and compels us to consider it in all its relations."—Anon . . . The good news of Tryonites coming home from their summer vacation is putting the joy of anticipation in the hearts of many friends. Charles G. Sewall writes that they will be on their way to Tryon from Maine by the 19th if all goes well. That means that Mrs. Sewall is improving. The

Continued on back page