Stunt Flying Here Over Screvens Today

Peter Brooks of New York, one of America's greatest stunt flyers, will give a free exhibition this afternoon at 3:30 over the Tryon Airport at Screvens bottoms. He will not land on the field but will do all kinds of stunts in the air, tailspins, slow-rolls, falling leaf, Immelmans, flying upside down, and other stunts at a height of 1,500 feet. Mr. Brooks, who is visiting his aunt, Mrs. M. B. Flynn, at Little Orchard, flew to Spartanburg Friday from New York in his little Monocoupe plane in four and one-half hours, making about 130 miles per hour. He was accompanied by the Honorable Diana Cavendish of London, England, who will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Flynn for sometime. Mr. Brooks will return to New York on Sunday. He has taken part in leading air races, test flights, barnstorming and military maneuvers. The people of this section are to be given another rare treat through the thoughtfulness of Mr. and Mrs. Flynn. It is unfortunate that Mr. Brooks could not remain here long enough to put on the show on Sunday so that more people could have an opportunity to see it. He will drive to Spartanburg this afternoon and fly back over Tryon.

Saluda split a double-header with Flat Rock Friday night. Saluda girls lost to Flat Rock girls by a large margin, but the Saluda Boys came back to win over the Flat Rock boys by a close margin after playing off a tie.
