Christmas In Tryon

Santa Claus is coming tonight! And many little children's hearts are beating fast with hope. It is the night of all nights that is most important to a child. And many of the grown ups have tried to see that no child will be disappointed. A group of Tryon Kiwanians have been out all morning distributing baskets of food and fruit and candy to needy families and they also had some toys to distribute to the children.

Many of the Sunday schools have Christmas trees and individuals throughout the county have been spreading Christmas cheer in various ways, with cards, calls, advertisements, and with the giving of gifts. Electrically decorated Christmas trees in yards have added gaiety to the holidays. The stores and hotels are also lighted with Christmas cheer. Everywhere everyone is wishing us all A Merry Christmas. Let us capture as much of this joy as possible and share it with others. The more we share it the greater it will grow.

Churches all over the county have joined in the Christmas spirit with special programs. Let us not forget that Christmas is a religious celebration, a celebration of joy, happiness and peace to all the world. Without the Christian churches there would be no Christmas. Those people who attend and support churches are helping to maintain a spirit that spreads good will and charity throughout
