Rector 'Little Church Around the Corner' Speaks Here Monday

The Rev. Randolph Ray, D. D., Rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, will speak in the Parish House on Monday, February 7th, at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. Ray will tell about the church and the actor, a subject on which he is well fitted to make a most telling address, as his church is the picturesque and famous "Little Church Around the Corner", so frequented by actors and actresses for worship, for marriages and for burials. The affectionate nickname of the church came to it because an actor was seeking a church which would conduct the funeral of an actor friend. He had been refused at one place, but told that he could probably be served by that "Little Church Around the Corner". The descriptive loving title stuck and the church is now headquarters for the Episcopal Actors' Guild, of which Dr. Ray is an official. As his experience in this field is so extensive the audience is promised an interesting afternoon by the description of the church's work in the world of the theatre.

All interested are invited to hear Dr. Ray at this meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, and to meet him at the social hour afterward.

Federal Housing Act passes the Senate. Measure gets by with margin of only two votes. Roosevelt will likely sign act at once.

State of North Carolina,
County of Polk.
To His Honor,
Judge A. Hall Johnston:

We, the Grand Jury of the Spring Term of Superior Court for Polk County, respectfully submit the following report:

The Jury has inspected the following county property, and beg to report as follows:

We visited the County Home, and found it in good shape and well run; the inmates comfortable and happy. They report that they are being well cared for.

The jail was inspected and found to be in satisfactory condition, except that the drain pipe from the shower baths was found to be in bad condition, and we recommend the installation of a larger drain pipe. This recommendation was made by the two preceding Grand Juries, but was apparently not carried out. We wish to insist that this recommendation be put into effect. We also recommend that the roof, screens, and locks be repaired, the outside woodwork painted. The furnace has a leak in it which should be looked after at once and the barn at the jail is in need of general repair.

We have inspected the Prison Camp and find that it is in very good condition. The prisoners report that they are being well taken care of.

We have inspected the Court
