The Ground-Hog

A grouchy ground-hog ground his teeth
And this I heard him say:
"This is the day to sally forth
And settle the season-Heigh?"

If I see my shadow at noontide,
then
I'm to crawl back to my lair,
And hibernate a month or more
Excluded from sun and air.

But how on earth can I hope to see
MY shadow, low and small,
When o'er this earth a shadow looms
Which falls on one and all?"
—Hilda von Siller, Tryon, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. John Preston have moved into their new home in Pacolet Hills.

Artency Mills, Col.

Artency Mills, 67, colored, of Mill Spring, died this morning about 6:30. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 at Stoney Knoll. She is survived by her husband, Frank Mills, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and three children: Alonzo Mills of Cincinnati, and Isaac and Maggie Mills of Mill Spring.

Editor and Mrs. Robert E. Delaplaine of Frederick, Md., were visitors today in the office of the world's smallest daily newspaper, while enroute to Florida. They stopped over for a brief visit with Miss Catharine Hamilton and Miss Almira Twining in Gillette Woods. Editor Delaplaine is co-publisher with his brother, W. T. Delaplaine, of the Frederick News and Post.

Capt. and Mrs. Rufus Zogbaum have returned from Florida and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. Flynn.
