

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POST OFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(THE WORLD'S SMALLEST DAILY NEWSPAPER)

Vol. 11. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, FEB. 11, 1938

An appreciative number of patrons enjoyed the first Hungarian Gaulash supper at the Tryon Country club on Thursday evening . . . A copy of the Anniversary Edition sent to Lieut- Commander Rembert, Navy Yard, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, has returned to Tryon to take the place of one sent to the Pacific coast . . . The Honor Roll of Tryon's high school present Senior class read as follows ten years ago when they were in the First grade: Ruth McFarland, Bell Jackson, Betty Shelnut, Elizabeth Bradley, Hallie Brock, Sybil Scruggs, Mildred Shell, Arlie Splawn, Lemuel Burnett, O. T. Hayes, Junior Pace, Carolyn Slagle . . . Sales Manager John Paul Lucas of the Duke Power Co., Charlotte, was a visitor to the Bulletin office on Thursday . . . Missildine's Pharmacy is furnishing customers free post cards with a picture of the attractive interior of the store . . . Ten years ago Rev. E. R. Dyer and family arrived home after five years in China for a visit with Mr. Dyer's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Rolla Dyer . . . "Tryon Homespun Suits for $34" reads an advertisement in the Bulletin. Since you can wear one everyday for years before it is worn out, that brings the price of the suit down to about $10 a year, and a hand-woven homespun always looks good . . . Have you seen the Boy Scout window at the Ballenger-Jackson Co? "30"

The District of Columbia National Guard honored its veteran chaplain, Major Arthur L. Smith, of Polk County, at the annual banquet of the 121st Engineers last Saturday night at the Raleigh Hotel just a night after the Major had joined up with the Democratic Club party.

Major Smith retires from the Guard in June when he reaches the age of 64, after more than 30 years of service. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American War, the Mexican campaign and the World War, and won recognition for his YMCA work in France during and after the last conflict.

The Major delivered a brief history of the militia in the District of Columbia and alater was made permanent historian of the National Guard in the Nation's Capital. After next June, he will be spending a lot of time on his place near Tryon.—From the State Magazine.
