

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(THE WORLD'S SMALLEST DAILY NEWSPAPER)

Vol. 11. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N C., THURSDAY, MAR. 17, 1938

At Kiwanis Tuesday

Tryon Girl Scouts gave an interesting musical program at the Kiwanis club on Tuesday noon. Under the direction of Mrs. Edmund Hilliard they made music on some shepherd pipes which they had made from bamboo grown in Tryon. Mrs. Hilliard taught the girls how to make the pipes and has been teaching them to play a number of old time music tunes on them. They played for the Kiwanians Tuesday. A feature of the program was a delightful solo, of "Old Black Joe" played by Miss Dorothy Milikin.

W. B. Weigel, who returned last week from a winter's stay in Florida, gave an interesting account of Fort Lauderdale, its climate and Venice-like scenery, but said he was still wedded to Tryon and was too much of a hillbilly to leave. Said he got awfully cold there for awhile.

Dr. E. Gibson Davis, pastor of the Baptist church in Spartanburg, and past president Jim McCutchen of the Hub City club drove the 26 miles to Tryon to make up their attendance lost from a meeting of their club. They gave interesting short talks. Dr. Davis touched on the war situation in Europe, was afraid we are headed for another war, but believed eventually the spiritual forces working

—Continued on Page Two—

George Vanderhoefs Buy Site Here

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Vanderhoef, Jr., of Greenwich, Conn., who have been visiting the H. B. Vanderhoefs on Piney Mountain, have purchased a tract of land in the Hunting country for their future home site.

Paper Chase Sunday

The Tryon Riding & Hunt club announces a paper chase for Sunday afternoon, starting at the Burnt Chimney at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. E. C. Williams

Mrs. Emma C. Williams, formerly a resident of Tryon, died on March 12 in Oak Park, Ill., at the age of ninety years, lacking a few months. Her faculties were kept up until her last illness which was of short duration.

The funeral services were held in Oak Park on March 14 and interment of the ashes will be in the Tryon cemetery by the side of her husband, B. D. Williams, whose death occurred in March 1917.

Mrs. Williams is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Boynton, of Oak Park Ill.

Tickets for Tryon Horse and Hound Show

Are now ready for distribution. Please get yours as soon as possible. George A. Cathey, Chm. Reservations