

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(THE WORLD'S SMALLEST DAILY NEWSPAPER)

Vol. 11, Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 1938

"CURB" REPORTER

The Sarasota (Fla.) Daily Tribune reports on front page that L. A. Avant of Tryon and a group of other men made the second highest catch of king fish on last Thursday in the Gulf of Mexico. There were eleven boats out and Mr. Avant's boat caught 154 kings weighing 750 pounds and also a ten pound grouper . . . The Arthur W. Brintnalls received clippings last week of mystery shocks in Michigan and of floods in California, so they say they are glad they live in Tryon . . . Mrs. J. W. Richardson has gone from Tucson, Ariz., to San Diego, Calif. . . . Franklin Parker, Jr., and Frank Farshall who have a little printing office at their school in Greenwich, Conn. visited the Bulletin office today. They knew all about chases, sticks, line guages and things that mystify beginners, and were deeply interested in the linotype machine and the cylinder press that prints The Polk County News . . . Scoutmaster W. A. Schilleter is doing wonderful work with the Tryon Boy Scouts. Over 30 boys are learning how to do many useful things that help prepare them for life. In addition the Scouts are learning to render public service by assisting as guides at Horse Show activities. . . . Have you paid your P. O. box rent? . . . From Rockhill, S. C., comes a clipping giving an

Continued on Back Page

Hunter Trials Tomorrow at 2:30

The Hunter Trial course at the old LeMorte place in the Hunting country is completed. For those who do not know the location, black arrows have been tacked along the way to serve as direction markers. A splendid view from the LeMorte hill will be had and there is plenty of parking space. Bring your automobile robes so that you may stretch out on them under the trees. You will be as comfortable as though you were in your own beds at home. Maybe.

The horses will be sent away one at a time, and will be judged by Mr. Jack Carpenter of Greenwood, Virginia. Mr. Carpenter hunts his own hounds in Virginia and has judged hunters in shows and Hunter Trials. We are very fortunate in having him. Incidentally he was the owner of that great hunter horse Troublemaker, whom he sold to Mrs. Randolph Scott, and who was the outstanding timber horse in America. He was killed about two years ago. Mrs. Scott's horse, Battleship, just recently won the Grand National Steeple-chase in England.

The Trials start at two-thirty. Come early and bring all your friends.

M. B. Flynn, Secretary.

Good Movie

Snow White and Seven Dwarfs, Walt Disney's latest picture is coming to the Imperial Theatre in Asheville for ten days' showing on March 31, according to an advertisement received today for The Polk County News.