

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(THE WORLD'S SMALLEST DAILY NEWSPAPER)

Vol. 11. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1938

"CURB" REPORTER

John Moore caught a large bass yesterday in Lake Adger. It weighed 8½ pounds . . . Real Estate has been very active lately. Carter Brown has purchased the old LeMorte place in the Hunting country. K. A. Bowen has bought the Blackely house on Godshaw Hill, now occupied by the Melbourne Smiths. Larry Brooks has purchased the N. B. Jackson home place on Lake Lanier. H. L. Shel-nutt has bought the old Tryon Theatre building which was damaged by fire. Announcement later. D. A. Shields has sold his home place to some High Point people who are going to build a silk hosiery mill there. Mr. Shields is already moving his house to his land nearby. H. P. Corwith sold two of his houses in Saluda last week and is offering two more in today's bulletin. J. H. Perkins of New York has the foundation and frame work about completed on his new home in the Hunting country. Building and moving is in the air. Fred Swann is moving this week back to his country home at Lynn. Hotel Tryon has been turning people away and plans to open up another story as soon as there is a slack in the number of guests. Dr. Fuldner reports increased use of the Country club tea and supper service. Sunnysdale is fast becoming popular all over this section. Additions from time to time at all

—Continued on Back Page—

Stags Wanted

The dance advertised for tonight at Sunnysdale welcomes all stags at 50c each, the same price as for couples. An error was made in using part of the last experimental advertisement.

Tournament Off

The mixed foursome golf tournament at the Tryon Country club has been postponed to next Friday and Saturday, April 8th and 9th.

HEADLINES

Dr. L. B. McBrayer, 69, noted North Carolina physician died at Southern Pines today.

Blizzard killed two at Winnipeg, Canada, today.

Former President Hoover says Europe is full of trouble and recommends that we stay away from it.

Telegrams pour into Washington urging Congress to defeat President's reorganization bill.

President Roosevelt's speech declaring that he did not want to be a dictator was interpreted by some as a bid for a third term.

Fog hampers ocean traffic. Nearly 2,000 passengers on the Normandie and Bremen were stalled at the gateway to New York last night. Already a day behind schedule because of an English Channel fog.

Senators kill plan to increase income taxes.