"Time Marches On" At Missildine's

Advertisement in today's Bulletin calls attention to the beginning of the 43rd year of Missildine's Pharmacy in Tryon. To establish and operate continuously for 43 years any kind of business is an enviable achievement and friends and customers throughout this section congratulate Dr. Missildine and the community on the record of the "Big City Drug Store." The Pharmacy is known to friends all over the country for the completeness of its stock and the high quality of its merchandise as well as for its modern equipment and fixtures which place it above many "big city" drug stores. Dr. Missildine is a former president of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical association and has been mayor of Tryon for many years, and has served the last five terms consecutively, since 1927. He first came to Tryon as a school teacher soon after graduating from Rollins college and went into the drug store business with Dr. Earl Grady 43 years ago. It is an interesting sight to see some of the old pictures of the wooden buildings and board walks on Trade street 43 years ago. The old buildings were burned down, but as time marched on bigger and better ones took their places. Only the past year the interior was redecorated and indirect lighting installed.

"CURB" REPORTER

Lawyer McCown who attended court at Monroe Tuesday says that one of the interesting cases that came up was that of a Negro having citizenship restored in order to get an old age pension. The Negro was born in slavery but lost citizenship years later when convicted of grand larceny. The law states that only citizens can receive old age pensions . . . The Tryon Tennis tournament has dwindled down to three men: The winner of the Howell - Caldwell match will play Julian Hester for the beautiful Kimberly trophy now on display at Missildine's . . . Thanks for a copy of the news magazine "North Shore Breeze" of Manchester, Mass. It contains an editorial on the value of hobbies to health. The editorial was based on an article by Dr. David L. Edsall in the Tryon, N. C. Daily Bulletin in which Dr. Edsall is quoted: "Anyone is in a very precarious situation in life if he or she has but one real interest. An avocation is almost as important as a vocation, and those who have no hobby should hurry to develop one and ride it hard enough so that they become almost intent to get their occupations over in order that they may drive their hobbies full pace." . . . Some people like to read and in order to keep good books in a good library the Lanier club is giving
