

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper)

Vol. 11. Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., TUESDAY, MAY 24, 1938

Disagree Over Proposed Law For Marriages

Hendersonville, May 23.—Several clergymen and delegates at the annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Western North Carolina held last week at Tryon, were not in favor of the recommendation of the department of Christian social service that the North Carolina general assembly be petitioned to require a three-day notice before any marriage can be performed in the state, the Rev. James P. Burke, rector of St. James Episcopal church here and secretary of the diocese, said Monday.

The recommendation was adopted, but not unanimously, the clergyman said. Other dioceses in North Carolina have adopted similar recommendations, Mr. Burke said.—Asheville Citizen.

Headlines—

Europe is quieting down after a conference of German and Czech leaders. They assure England of peace efforts.

Wage and Hour bill considerably amended will pass House next time, according to opponents who concede defeat.

Supreme Court says college and university athletic games may be taxed on admission receipts.

Mexican laborers want to take up arms for government and help put down rebellion.

“CURB” REPORTER

Lady Diana of Lake Lanier, registered tri-color collie presented her owner, J. Frank Richardson, Jr., with seven thoroughbred puppies on Sunday. Six puppies are males! George Cathey's Blue Merle Collie, a championship blue winner is the sire . . . . . Nice shower today. . . . Saturday is challenge day, when you may have an opportunity to challenge the right of anyone to vote . . . . . Thanks to Mrs. N. B. Jackson, of St. Petersburg, Fla., we have a clipping and news item about Edwin H. Tomlinson, 94-year-old former citizen of Tryon who built and equipped the first manual training school in St. Petersburg. The Board of Education has renamed a school there the Edward H. Tomlinson Vocational school. The Evening Independent says of Mr. Tomlinson: "So great was the interest taken in the welfare of the Sunshine City that it can be truly said that no worthwhile public institution in the city was without his financial aid." . . . . . . . . . . TESTING AIR MAIL: Editor Seth M. Vining of the Tryon Daily Bulletin, perhaps wanting to learn for himself, or show me, the real merits of mail by air, dropped me an air mail letter in the pouch Thursday at noon. It made its way to Charlotte and bore its cancellation at 6:30 and started back to the mountains, —Continued on Back Page—