

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

(The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper)

Vol. 11. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N C., WED., JUNE 15, 1938

BOYS! BOYS!!

The Tryon Boys club will open its fourth consecutive year on Monday morning, June 20th, at 9:30, in the school house. This club has had three successful seasons under the leadership of Dr. George Farrand Taylor but he is unable to continue. For awhile it looked as though the boys would be without a means of summer recreation which they have so thoroughly enjoyed for no well qualified leader could be found. Happily that fear is past and all the boys and their parents will be glad to know that Mr. W. A. Schilleter has told Dr. Taylor that, rather than see the work of the club lapse for even one summer, he is prepared to take over the leadership for this year. This will be as welcome news to the boys as it is to those who are responsible for the work of the club. Mrs. Anne Osworth Green has already written of her approval and pleasure of this solution. Dr. Taylor and Mr. Schilleter have been in conference over this season's plans.

Mrs. Greene is the founder and promoter of this recreation and craft work for the boys in the summer weeks. She has financed the club from the beginning and been keenly interested in its progress and in the work of the boys. The reports sent her by letter and what she has heard from the parents and other friends of the boys have continued her feeling that the club is worth while. Although Mrs. Greene was not in Tryon this winter, she has kept in touch with things and the happy outlook is due to her deep interest

Continued on Page Three

"CURB" REPORTER

"Connecticut Nutmeg" is the name of a new weekly received in Tryon by Harkness Smith. it is published every Thursday at New Canaan, Conn., by a group of prominent people, including Heywood Brown, Deems Taylor, Stanley High, Colvin Brown, Gene Tunney, John Erskine, Ursula Parrott, Quentin Reynolds, Jack Pegler, George T. Bye. Vol. 1, No. 1, contains articles by the owners and Faith Baldwin, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and Elizabeth Hawes. The paper is tabloid size on white machine finish book paper. John Erskine writing the saluting editorial says: "We have no policy. Or perhaps we shall have as many policies as contributors. Let nature take its course. Each of us will say what he wishes. From time to time we hope to agree with each other. (Paragraph) You will find in the NUTMEG, however, this fundamental unity, that we are a group of human beings who think we have serious things to say to other human beings equally serious. We shall try to express our ideas painlessly. (Paragraph). Though our hope is to supply news as well as comments, it is not our intention to duplicate other journals already in existence. In one respect we would reverse the common procedure—instead of trying to imitate Metropolitan publications we pre-

Continued on Back Page