THIS IS LIFE

By THOMAS A. BOYNTON

The day of "stand-ins" is rapidly drawing to a high climax—at least so it seemed when, recently, Miss Palma Wayne, a keen observer of one of those gorgeous things that motion picture cameramen gaze upon but never—or rarely—photograph happened upon a stand-in for none other than the popular and debonaire Charlie McCarthy of international fame. According to the lovely stand-in's story, "Extra-Extra" in the current Cosmopolitan magazine, she was walking through the set of "Goldwyn Follies" when she happened upon the little extra. She wrote: "I saw the stand-in, a wooden manikin extra in evening tails. They propped him up in a case, and as he stood there he might have been a symbol of the credulous illusions and counterfeit creations of this kingdom of silver shadows".

Miss Bell Jackson Wins Scholastic Honor

Supt. W. A. Schilleter stated today that Miss Bell Jackson, a member of last year's Senior class of the Tryon high school, had received the 11th Congressional District gold medal for highest rank in the Beta club examinations. The medal is in the form of a little book about the size of a postage stamp and will be worn on a chain. Miss Jackson has made high marks throughout her school career in Tryon. During her Senior year she was associate editor of the high school news department in The Polk County News. This fall she will enter Avery college at Danville, Va., where she will take a course in journalism.
