Ireland—N. Y. In 25 Hours

By THOMAS A. BOYNTON

(Via Air Mail)

The British never have been a race to be outdone by the fetes of other peoples without at least a sizable struggle. Such victories as have been copped by this country were not easy ones. The British victories of yesterday (Thursday) in the field of aeronautics prove that John Bull still wishes to stay in the game. They have raised their ante.

Yesterday afternoon a beautiful four-motored monoplane came out of the gray skys to land gracefully upon the waters of the Port Washington, L. I., terminal of the Pan American Airways, at 4:08.

It was the British pickaback seaplane, which had landed at Boucherville, near Montreal, Canada, at 10:20 a. m. (Est.), just 22 hours and 20 minutes after having left Foynes, Ireland, where she had been launched 6,000 feet in the air by her mother ship, the flying boat Maia. The smaller craft was manned by Capt. Donald Bennett and Wireless Operator Albert Coster. It made the Montreal-New York stretch in two hours and 40 minutes.

It was a great flight. The plane now holds the record of having been the only airplane to have spanned the ocean with a commercial cargo aboard. However, for people of America it lacked some of the tang that recently characterized both the Hughes and Corrigan flights (we won't be outdone either). The flight blazed the way for regular transoceanic passenger and mail service, for

Boys Club Enters Final Week

The Tryon Boys' club closed its fifth week Friday noon, and David Cromer reports that they will enter their sixth and final week on Monday with a lot of "pep" to do bigger things. On Monday the members will cast their votes for the most outstanding boys in the club. Boys to be voted on will be divided in two groups, those under twelve years of age and those over. J. A. Crosswhite, the photographer, will take a picture of the entire group on Monday and all boys are urged to be present to get in the picture and to take part in the voting. The points made by the various groups so far are as follows: Group 1, 78; group 2, 71; group 3, 72; group 4, 56; group 5, 45. Maj. W. A. Schilleter has been in charge of the boys club this season and is high in his praise of the work the boys have been doing and of their general conduct and sportsmanship.

TO MAKE HOME HERE

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Jackson have arrived to make their home in the Schoff house formerly occupied by the K. A. Bowens.
