The Baptist Business Woman's Circle will meet on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Amos Foster with Miss Minnie Arledge in charge of the program.

B. L. Ballenger and F. P. Bacon are spending a few days at High Hampton.

A daughter was born at St. Luke's hospital this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore of Columbus.

N. CAROLINA

Our Tryon's mountain tons
I see the fleecy clouds
They are like a shining fountain,
Or fairies in gossamer shrouds;
Dancing on the mountain
Before the fairy music stops.
Are there birds and deer up there,
In the fresh Carolina air?
Sometimes the clouds are dim and grey.

I'd like to see them at break of day.
When the sun begins to rise
What a sight before my eyes,
As the golden sun comes up
Like molten gold in a cup,
What a glorious sight to see
And it is a thrill to me.
When the thunder storms are raging.

And the earth the rain is paging
Then I think it is sublime
Written on the page of time,
Beyond the storm and fury
And life's stress and hurry,
Beyond Tryon's highest mountain,
There we'll find a woody glen.
There is more I could relate,
I think N. Carolina is a wonderful state.
