

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POST OFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C., UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

1c Per Copy (The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper) Per Copy 1c

Vol. 11. Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., FRIDAY, OCT. 7, 1938

"CURP" REPORTER

Lawyer McCown left today for New York and World Series . . . Henry Shankle, Jr., former Bulletin "devil" continues to make good in Portland, Oregon, where he is building up a nice printing business and studying. He represented his church at a big convention in Colorado recently . . . Luther said, "Peace if possible, but truth at any rate." . . . The State has about finished its new road to the Tryon town limits near black bottom and the Town is now at work opening up the street from Godshaw Hill to meet the new road. This is going to be one of the favorite drives around Tryon . . .

Cotton Subsidy Payments Received In Polk County

Cotton farmers who cooperated in the 1937 control program are the recipients of $24,655.44 being distributed now by the County Agent's office. According to Assistant County Agent Harris, this amount is approximately 70% of the total subsidy payments due Polk county farmers, and which will be paid as soon as all applications have been passed on by the adjustment administration officials. The farmers who have checks at the office now are being notified to come and get them. As the other checks come additional notices will be sent out to whom the checks are made.

Boys Scouts Hold 2 Day Meet at U. N. C.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 6.—A covered wagon with Boy Scouts driving two old brown mules and a number of uniformed legs hanging out the back, rolled slowly into Chapel Hill early this afternoon.

Carrying some 2,000 Scouts from North Carolina and South Carolina here to celebrate in jubilee fashion with a four-day encampment at the University, cars from all over the State were soon driving into Chapel Hill, with two-wheeled trailers attached behind them piled high with tents, blankets, and Scout uniforms. Some Scouts came in troops. Others were brought by their parents who paid close attention to where their boy was going to sleep and what he would do if it rained, as dark clouds gathering in the east prophesied.

Tonight the Scouts gathered at a campfire session and were welcomed with addresses by President Frank P. Graham and Administrative Dean R. B. House, Prof. Harold D. Meyer, educational director of the Scouts for this region, and chairman of the University's committee for the jubilee, was in charge of the program.

Dr. James E. West of New York, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, and Dr. Clyde Erwin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will speak at an elaborate Scout-orama on Fetzer field Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Saturday the Scouts will continue their demonstrations and will put on a show at half-time during the

—Continued on Back Page—