CURB REPORTER

Dr. Earl Grady of Tryon is scheduled to read a medical paper at a dinner meeting of the Thermal Belt Medical society at Shelby on October 27th We had some rain last night, first this month. Dust all settled and the sun is shining again. Nice to have rain that way when we can get what we need without interferring with what we want in the day time The marquee or whatever you call it that is suspended over the sidewalk in front of big city theatres, was erected yesterday in front of Tryon's new theatre, and neon lights for advertising the current pictures are being tested. The interior of the theatre is gradually taking shape with the addition of the plaster. It looks good. The ceiling is shaped like a shoe sole or ballon, wide in the middle and narrowing at each end. Theatre officials say there will not be any increase in price for regular admissions. The first floor will seat 406 people and the balcony 115 and the seats will be upholstered on rows wide apart for added comfort. I can hardly wait! Major Bernard Sharp pleased the Rotary club of Spartanburg the other day with his talk on Hitler, according to a story in the Herald I will not be able to buy a car this year but I'm going to see the new Chevrolet on display at the Tryon Motor Co.,

New 1939 Chevrolet On Display Tomorrow

First showing of the new 1939 Chevrolet will be made tomorrow in the showroom of the Tryon Motor Company in conjunction with the initial nation-wide display of this popular low priced car.

In commenting upon the 1939 Chevrolet sales slogan which reads "Only Chevrolet Gives So Much For So Little," Claude O. Smith, manager of the local Chevrolet Company, remarked, "Car buyers everywhere are going to get a real surprise when they see this new Chevrolet. Chevrolet is offering an

Harrison J. Barrett

News has been received in Tryon of the death on Thursday morning of Prof. Harrison J. Barrett of Cambridge, Mass. Professor Barrett, a prominent Boston lawyer and professor in the Boston Law School was one of Tryon's first attorneys and made his home here for many years. He was a former superintendent of the Congregational Sunday School and active in all civic affairs. His wife, who died some years ago, was the former Miss Myra Whitney, member of a pioneer family of Tryon and for whom Whitney Avenue on Godshaw Hill was named. Mr. Barrett was deeply interested in Tryon and as a lawyer had traced many deeds and historical papers back to colonial times. Death came yesterday morning at a Boston hospital where he had been for a short time. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James Dunn of Boston and Mrs. Thompson of California.
