CURB REPORTER

Harry Emerson Fosdick, who has a number of friends in Tryon and who came here to rest a few years ago is quoted today as saying: "Hating people is like burning down your house to get rid of a rat." . . . John Gibson, another barber with a unique personality has come over to Tryon from Columbus. Dr. C. V. Tilley, the interesting, friendly pastor of the Columbus Baptist church went in to see John one day and looking him right in the eye said: "You are a pogonologist." Looking back with puzzled eyes, John said, "Now, I don't know whether to feel complimented or to hit you." You see John was born in Tennessee, Major Sharp's home state, and had been in the business of pogonotomy (barber business) for many years and had had some men in his barber chair with pogoniasis (excessive growth of beard) but he didn't know it by the Greek name Dr. Tilley called it . . . The Rev. Charles McGavern, the new Episcopal rector, has moved to Auberge, the new Crandall apartments. Auberge is French and is pronounced O-beerge, with the accent on the bear, and means a mountain inn. The new minister is on the right side, second floor, apartment 7. . . . Ann Chapman, two-year-old, begged so much to ride on the bus that her mother, (Mrs. Demus Chapman) carried her to Hendersonville and back the other day.
