In The Book of Remembrance

Fourteen residents of Tryon contributed to the Fund which is being raised to build a memorial Chapel to Bishop Finlay at Kanuga. Each contributor has benefited from the services and the religious gatherings at Kanuga and made his or her gift as a Thank-offering in memory of the Founder and moving spirit of the place: the late Kirkman George Finlay, late Bishop of Upper South Carolina. The donations were forwarded by the local chairman today to Mrs. R. E. Gribben, the chairman for the Diocese Committee. Each of the donors received a Memorial Card showing he or she had made a gift and these names will be written in a Book of Remembrance and placed in the cornerstone of the new Chapel.

The following Tryon people made gifts: Miss Helen Stearns, Robert Andrews, Betty Lee and Kathleen Andrews, Bill Mebane, Peggy Lincoln, Mary Palmer, Alan Calhoun, Mrs. C. W. Kittrell, G. F. Taylor, Elisabeth Watson, Virginia Kelly, Miss Annie S. Ravenel, Miss Mary Carpenter.

Bishop R. E. Gribben of the Episcopal Diocese of Western North Carolina has been elected to succeed Bishop Finlay as the official head of Kanuga Conference.

Chamber of Commerce Meets Thursday

The Directors of the Tryon Chamber of Commerce last night issued a call meeting of the entire body. Every public spirited citizen invited to attend and join at Missildine's Hall, 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

CURB REPORTER

Tryon Girl Scouts want any old clean cloth and dolls that can be redressed and given to some poor children at Christmas. Notify Miss Pace, the leader or any Girl Scout. . . . Dudley Smith's Brookhill Broilers certainly are delicious . . . Stefansson, the noted explorer who visited Mrs. Banning at Friendly Hills last spring, has spent more time north of the Arctic Circle than any other explorer; resource and intelligence marked his explorations . . . Henry Shankle, Jr., the former printer's devil of the Tryon Daily Bulletin, who went west several years ago to work in Portland, Oregon, got a job in a printing office, saved his money and bought a little job shop of his own and in the meantime published a little monthly Bulletin for 57 Epworth Leagues of the Portland district. Next month he will celebrate his paper's first anniversary with a three-color Christmas souvenir edition. Henry's little paper has received notice in the Epworth Herald, an international Methodist paper . . . Jumping to something older and bigger, a letter from J. E. Dowd informs us that the Charlotte News will celebrate its 50th anniversary with a big edition in a few days and they want something nice said about it in the Bulletin. We'll see, when the big paper reaches our office . . . Samuel A. Bingham, Ann Bingham
