Tomorrow there will be awarded a metal cook book with loose leaves, gift of Pillsbury. A Foley can opener, $1 value; a Foley blending fork, value 25c; Lux gift box, Quaker Oats and Aunt Jemima products, Sno Sheen, three 5-pound sacks of Pillsbury flour. Those winning prizes today were Miss Hilda von Siller, Miss Katharine Radcliffe, Miss Bertha Blackwell, Mrs. C. N. Sayre, Mrs. R. H. Millikin, Mrs. Waite, Mrs. F. B. Nance, Mrs. Marv Coxe, Mrs. Henderson of Tryon Route One and Mrs. Nessmith.

This entertaining and instructive picture is a treat absolutely free to every housewife in Tryon and vicinity.

Thanksgiving Dance At Sunnydale, 24th

Ernest Kerhulas, of Sunnydale Log Cabin announces that a Thanksgiving Dance will be given on Thursday, November 24th, from 9 o'clock to 1:00. Del Padgett and his orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the dance.

Chamber Tonight

The Tryon Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight at 7:30 at Missildine's Hall. Everyone interested in joining the organization and having a part in community growing activities is invited to attend.

CURB REPORTER

The Curb Reporter would like for every woman in the community to see "Star In My Kitchen" at Tryon's Theatre on Friday morning beginning at 9:30. It is really entertaining and costs you absolutely nothing, thanks to Manager C. W. Nessmith and the manufacturers, Pillsbury, Frigidaire, Kraft Cheese, Foley products, Quaker Oats and Lux soap companies. One of the interesting recipes is published on the back page of this Bulletin. There will be recipes to follow from time to time as we find space for them. Preparing wholesome food in an attractive way goes a long way toward adding happiness in the home. Many of the guests were fascinated with the new way in which pie crusts were made and fluted with the fingers. Save all Bulletins with the recipes. If for any reason you don't want to cut out the recipe you may get another copy from this office for one cent, or you may copy it in your cook book.
