Bazaar Attractions Very Interesting

They say, with an emphasis that is convincing, that this year's Annual Christmas Bazaar and Tea of St. Agnes Guild will lack none of the attractions that have made this event so enjoyable in the past, and that, moreover, there will be added features this year and a considerably wider selection of gifts.

The ladies of the Guild, under the direction of Mrs. James Baker, chairman for the Bazaar, assisted by Mrs. H. H. Parmelee, have been concentrating for weeks on arrangements for the Bazaar. It is to be held Wednesday afternoon, December 7th, from 3 to 6 o'clock, in the Parish House, and there will be the usual modest admission charge of 25 cents, which is inclusive of the cost of tea.

Elaborate decorations, guaranteed to be novel and eye-filling will be executed by Mrs. Harkness Smith. Arrangements for the tea will be directed by Mrs. F. P. Bacon, and Mrs. Julian C. Calhoun will be in charge of the tea table.

Equal in interest to the social features of the tea will be the offering of articles particularly designed for Christmas gifts. There will be something new in the way of a "snack" table, where one will find cheeses, baked ham, cocktail appetizers, and other tantalizing edibles. Miss Ferdinande Poppe will have the "snack" table.

The cake and candy table will present a wider variety of goodies

It's The Spirit That Counts.

Did you ever see a little baby staring at a light? Have you ever been alone on a country road at night and have seen the friendly light from the window of a farm home? Have you ever been down town on Saturday night and have seen the crowds that walk the streets or sit in cars watching other people go by in front of the bright lights of the stores? There's something about lights that lures the lonely and creates a spirit of cheerfulness. And now at Christmas time it is planned to decorate Trade street with beautiful Christmas lights, not only for this Christmas but for years to come. A fund of $250 is being raised to buy permanent equipment. On Saturday there was a balance of $140 to be raised. On Monday this balance had been cut almost half leaving $75 to be raised. Among the donations was a gift of $5 from a guest at Thousand Pines Inn. Fifteen more friends giving $5 each will make the goal. Anyone desiring to help spread this spirit of good cheer may send their check or money to C. J. Lynch, chairman, or to The Bulletin office. As soon as the money is raised the lights can be installed.
