Kiwanis Committees Are Announced

At a recent meeting of the Tryon Kiwanis club, Persident Hoyt O. Prince announced the appointment of the following committees for the year 1939:

Agriculture, J. A. Wilson; Attendance, B. B. Bishop, Jr.; Boys' and Girls' Work, J. E. Brownlee; Business Standards, L. P. Barnette; Classification, Herbert Butler; Finance, J. N. Jackson; House, C. J. Lynch; Inter-Club Relations, C. Arthur Lincoln; Kiwanis Education, C. P. Rogers; Laws and Regulations, Seth M. Vining; Membership, R. H. Brady; Music, L. A. Avant; Program, C. M. Eargle; Public Affairs, Tom Costa; Publicity, M. B. Flynn; Reception, K. A. Bowen; Under-Privileged Child, J. E. Derby.

In his annual report of the club's activities the secretary listed among the club's accomplishments the distribution of 65 Christmas baskets of food and fruit to needy families all over the county; the raising of $250 to decorate Trade street with lighted Christmas trees; the appropriation of $50 for rural extension work such as paying expenses of 4-H club boys and girls to their annual camps and entertaining the farmers on their tour with refreshments and prizes for various contests and by having farmers attend the club meeting from time to time. The club also continued its service of lending two wheel chairs to temporary invalids. And watched with interest its growing chain of pigs given to 4-H boys all over this section. The programs were

A card just received from Charlie Lynch at Havana, Cuba, says "Flew over. Am still high" . . . Thanks to Capt. Morris A. Bryan for a copy of the Sunday Miami News with a rotogravure section of the Tennessee-Oklahoma players, etc. . . . Roy Shelley's hobby now is training a Tennessee horse, named Spot to do stunts in an 18 foot ring back of Hotel Tryon. Spot is already doing nearly everything but talk. He counts his age by striking the ground with his foot, will shake "hands," turn round and round on a small platform, jump four hurdles within the small 18-foot ring and shake his head to and fro for "NO" and move it up and down for "YES." Roy is planning to have him ready for a performance at the Horse Show in April . . . President K. A. Bowen of St. Luke's Hospital Association is eager to have all pledges paid up when the annual roll call is read out soon . . . Tryon and Sunny View schools split their doubleheader before Christmas but both teams are confident of victory tonight at the Tryon gym . . . And now the ladies are going to invade the Bowling League quarters today for Tryon's newest form of indoor recreation. . . . It is still springtime in Tryon. Weatherman Creasman said the other day that he never made comments on his reports to
