Vol. 11. Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., MONDAY, JAN. 9, 1939

A copy of Virginia Graham's interesting book, "Heather Mixture" has been received by John Washburn of the Tryon Book & Paper Shop, and orders for additional copies have been forwarded to England. The book is a collection of prose and verse which have appeared mostly in Punch, Vogue, Night and Day and Design. The book "bears all the hallmarks which one would expect from one of her name. With a witty pen she delineates the follies and fancies of social life and combines an inherited habit of poking fun at people with a happy sense of humor—appeals to those who enjoy satire in its kindest form." It costs 5s net Thanks to Eugene Turner for a copy of The Shantung Daily News of November 30th carrying notice of what the paper thinks is the smallest paper in the world published on Thursday Island north of Australia. Would like to see a copy of the little paper which depends entirely on the wireless for its news as there is nothing doing on the island. The little paper has only one advertisement and is printed on one side only. The Turners are at Tsingtao, the Chinese city formerly held by Germany and taken over by the Japs during the World War

Troops clash again on Czech-Hungary Border. Town shelled by artillery after charge repulsed.
