POLK CHICKENS FAIL TO REACH BALTIMORE

"Who broke the lock on the hen house door?"

Jonas Bidly, prominent Cooper Gap citizen, reported to Sheriff W. D. Hines the loss of 15 to 20 nice Buff Leghorn chickens on Tuesday night. The sheriff's force went to work and by methods all their own, by noon Wednesday had landed in jail Wilburn Brown and Adam Wells of Cooper Gap and Carl Turner of Green Creek, and charged them with the theft of the chickens. Brown was acquitted at the last term of Polk Superior Court when he was charged with stealing a steer. Officers state that he has confessed to stealing the chickens. The chickens were sold to a man named Moore at Forest City who was buying for a Wilkesboro firm which ships them to Philadelphia and Baltimore. So instead of satisfying the appetites of Philadelphia lawyers or Baltimore citizens the chickens were brought back to Forest City and Mr. Bidly has been notified to come and get them.

Rogers Receives Appointments

Hon. Carroll P. Rogers, member of the House of Representatives from Polk county has been appointed on four important committees, according to announcement by Speaker D. L. Ward at Raleigh. The committees are as follows: Appropriations, Conservation and Development, Game and Corporations.

Flower Shop Opens Here On Friday

The Tryon Flower Shop, operated by Joe Anderson and Mrs. George D. Cooksey, will open on Friday afternoon from 3 to 7 o'clock in the new building next to Mrs. Brownlee's Style Shoppe. Mr. Anderson stated this morning, "The Tryon Flower Shop will endeavor to render the same service found in any city florist shop. Potted plants, cut flowers and floral designs will be sold locally and shipped anywhere desired. Prompt delivery service will be maintained for local patrons upon request from the telephone." An advertisement in today's Bulletin invites the public to visit the shop during opening hours tomorrow afternoon.
