Girl Who Broke World Record Here Tonight

Miss Alene Cudd who recently shot 99 points for Green Creek against Sunny View in a basketball game is scheduled to be in the line-up against the Tryon girls tonight at the local gymnasium when Tryon and Green Creek boys and girls meet for the first time this season. Miss Cudd is thought to have broken the world's record with her 99 points. She is over 6 feet tall and very difficult to guard. The girls game starts at 7:30 and the boys game will follow immediately.

Many Hear Lecture At School House

A large number of people from the surrounding section turned out for the Christian Science lecture on Thursday night at the Tryon school auditorium. The lecture was ably delivered by John Randall Dunn, C. S. B., of Boston, Mass. He spoke on "Christian Science: The Good News of the Kingdom." The lecture was well received by the audience. The speech was printed in full in this week's Polk County News and several hundred copies of it have already been sold to those who heard it.

Pope Pius, head of the Roman Catholic church, died this morning about 5 o'clock at Vatican city following an attack of asthma. He was 81 years old and the spiritual head of 400,000,000 people.

Music Course Ends Next Tuesday

We are becoming more and more musically enlightened with the progress of Miss Ball's delightful evenings. This last one was more enjoyed and better understood, judging by the response of the audience, than any of the previous ones. The hour was spent with the pioneers of the Impressionist school, and their basic link with the Romantic School were plainly indicated. Miss Ball played lovely examples from DeBussey, The Prelude, and Clair de Lune from the Burgomaster Suite. She also played the Sunken Cathedral with its impression of the chanting monks, the beating waves and the reverberating notes of the mystic organ. The Prelude Sollenel was received with diverse opinions but the Desire and Poeme of Scriabien were exquisite and pleasing to the most untrained ear.

Next Tuesday Miss Ball will conclude her series with the still later pioneers of the School of Realism which will include various countries. The course began with the Gregorian choirs of the middle ages, hearing for the first time the overtones echoing through the vast cathedrals. This led to the discovery of harmony and the course has been designed to show how modern composers have returned to the old Gregorian church music and added new scales and chords and the less obvious overtones.—Contributed.
