CURB REPORTER

Isn't this weather perfect! . . . .
Violets on stems nine inches long are growing in the yard of John L. Brown . . . . Two black startling birds, not native to this section, are making headquarters in the yard of James B. Hester on Godshaw Hill. The birds are unwelcome as they destroy the nests of other birds that are wanted according to reports . . . . City officials and representatives of various organizations met the bus carrying the N. C. World Fair Greeters this morning at the depot, and Charlie Lynch was at his best telling them about the assets of the community: horseback riding, schools, hospitals, golf, climate, beautiful scenery, pure water, and best of all the type of people the community has and wants to attract. Each member of the visiting party was given a souvenir copy of the world's smallest daily newspaper and the leader of the group was given a copy of the 10th anniversary number containing the interesting articles contributed by prominent local people who told in their own way what Tryon has to offer. . . . A New Yorker was high in her praise of the delicious fried chicken served at a party in Tryon Wednesday evening. But it wasn't Southern. The chickens were raised by a man from Illinois, cooked by a man

"Thru Garden Gate", Flower Show Theme

This year's Flower Show, to be held by the Tryon Garden club on April 28, will be related to the Garden club's program of helping to beautify Tryon and its environs.

Beginning with the roadsides, on which much work has already been done, the club is now trying to stimulate garden improvement, and has chosen for this year's Flower Show theme the slogan "Through the Garden Gate." The inference is that whatever beautification may have been accomplished on the outside roads should now be introduced into the gardens.

In harmony with this theme, the Parish House where the Flower Show will be held, will be decorated as a lattice-enclosed garden, with fence and garden, ivy-twined at the entrance.

The general chairman of the Flower Show is Mrs. Harkness Smith, who is being assisted by the following committee chairmen: Schedule, Mrs. Ralph Erskine; Judges, Mrs. Julian Calhoun; Reception, Mrs. Frank Crandall; Prizes, Miss Helen Stearns; Staging, Mrs. W. R. Kales and Mrs. Harkness Smith; Entry, Mrs. F. P. Bacon and Miss Mae Irene Flentye; Classification, Mrs. G. H. Holmes, Mrs. David Edsall, Mrs. Tom Costa; Refreshment, Mrs. Sam Bingham, Jr.; Publicity, Mrs. Melbourne Smith.

Everyone in town, whether Garden club member or not, is eligible to enter exhibits, and non-members are invited to participate, and to notify Mrs. Bacon or Miss Flentye, who are in charge of entries.—Contributed.
