

The Tryon Daily Bulletin

1c PER COPY (The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper) 1c PER COPY

Vol. 12. Est. 1-31-28 TRYON, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1939

Mrs. Leroy Williams

Mrs. L. R. Williams, 60, died this morning at 11:30 at the hospital following several days illness. Funeral services will be held in Hendersonville on Sunday. The deceased is survived by her husband and three children, two sons, Burley and Duford Williams, of Tryon and one daughter, Mrs. James Littlefield of Landrum, S. C., also several grandchildren. Mrs. Williams was before her marriage Miss Toonie Garren of Hendersonville. She had made her home in Tryon for the past 26 years.

Girl Scouts Need Camp Cabin

Tryon Girl Scouts need a small cabin for overnight camping on Lake Lanier. Anyone having an extra lot on Lake Lanier suitable for this purpose can help the work of the local organization considerably by donating a lot or leasing it for a reasonable sum to the local committee of which Mrs. John Washburn is chairman. When the lot is obtained plans can be made for obtaining material with which to build the cabin. Anyone having suitable lumber, logs, cement, windows, doors, etc., may notify Mrs. Washburn or other members of the committee: Mrs. D. C. Brundage, Mrs. F. W. Sprague, Mrs. W. A. Schilleter, Mrs. Seth M. Vining.

Roosevelt calls on Democrats who disagree with present policies to "subordinate their prejudices" or get out of the party.

J. H. Perkins Writes Of South America

The following interesting letter from J. H. Perkins, chairman of the board of the National City Bank of New York City, who has a home in Tryon will be of interest to all Bulletin readers throughout the world:

My dear Seth Vining:

Thinking that perhaps your regular correspondent at Osorno, Chili, is sick I have decided to take his place for tonight and send in a few words.

Mrs. Perkins and I have seen so many interesting things on this South American trip that I am tempted to talk about them all, but neither my space nor yours permit, so I send a word about two places which I believe would be of special interest to the Tryonite because they both go in for mountains, streams and forests.

The first is Brazil, and as Brazil is somewhat larger than the U. S. and we were there ten days I can only report on a little piece of it; but what I saw was lovely beyond words. The harbor of Rio de Janeiro is admitted to be the most beautiful in the world and as we approached it at six in the morning it lived up to its reputation. We came in under the great Sugar Loaf Mountain which goes up about 2,000 feet right out of the sea and there just beyond it was the city backed by great mountains and fronted by miles of the most beautiful beaches. One of the mountains which rises about twenty-five hundred feet back of

Continued on Page Three