A&P CELEBRATES 80TH ANNIVERSARY

Concurrent celebration of "The Parade of Progress" and the 80th anniversary of the founding of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., have been hailed by M. A. Hogewood, vice-president of the Southern Division of the A&P, as joint dramatizations of the contributions the food industry is making to the American standard of living.

"The opening of our first store on Vesey Street in New York just 80 years ago marked the beginning of mass distribution," Mr. Hogewood said. "From that small independent grocery store sprung the idea for all of the nation's chain organizations, and the many contributions they make to consumers, farmer and wage-earner."

Mrs. Archie Butler is a patient at St. Luke's hospital for treatment.

Such interest has followed "Moonlight Sonata" from the start that when Mendes announced there would be scenes in a concert hall men and women from the Peerage, from the great music centers of Europe, elderly dowagers and enthusiastic music lovers requested to have the honor of serving as extras that they might hear the great pianist.
