POLK COUNTY CONVICT PAROLED FROM PRISON

Raleigh, June 1. — One white and two negro prisoners were granted paroles today, Edwin M. Gill, parole commissioner, announced. The white man is Cole L. Gonnell, serving 12 months for assault with a deadly weapon from Polk county.—Asheville Citizen.

Answers to inquiries sent to farmers about the one variety cotton association assures that the association will soon be organized. A majority of the farmers having the Coker 100 have already applied for membership in the association and more applications are coming on each mail.

As soon as arrangements can be made a meeting will be called for the purpose of explaining the working of the association and elect officers.

This is undoubtedly the most progressive step ever taken by farmers in Polk county to improve the quality of cotton which is their major cash crop.
