Paralysis Caution !

Definite steps to prevent the spread of infantile paralysis to Spartanburg were taken last night at the regular meeting of the city board of health.

Board officials, in releasing a six-point program drawn up at last night's session, emphasized the fact that no cases of the disease, which has spread in epidemic form in the lower part of the state, have been reported within 65 miles of Spartanburg.

However, officials stated, "we feel that every known precaution should be taken to try to prevent its occurrence in our city . . . and the board promises to do all in its power. . . . to keep it from our midst.—Spartanburg Herald.

New School

Hendersonville, June 8.—Plans for the establishment of Western North Carolina units of the Florida Science Preparatory school for boys were announced here Thursday.

Fall and spring terms of the institution, which has headquarters in Miami, will be held in the future at Camp Carlyle, near Hendersonville.

The school is owned by Miss Julia Fillmore Harris, owner of the Miss Harris' Florida School for girls, of Miami, which last year established spring and fall units in Henderson county. Although the two institutions are separate in operation, the fall and spring terms of both will be held at Camp Carlyle.—Asheville Citizen.

Night Swimming At Lake Lanier

Manager E. A. Emmermann of Lake Lanier Inn states that the Inn dock will be illuminated with flood lights on Sunday evening until about 10 o'clock in order to accommodate any who prefer to go in swimming at night. If the venture proves popular it will be repeated.

News Pictures Tonight

Manager Chas. Nessmith has just received a telegram from RKO, New York, stating that the latest news film just completed in New York on Thursday are coming to Tryon by airplane as far as Spartanburg. The reel is expected to have the scenes of the arrival of the King and Queen in the United States and other last minute events. The news film will be shown all during the weekend.

$75 Needed

C. J. Lynch and George A. Cathey were out this morning soliciting funds for the Fourth of July Celebration to be held at Harmon Field. Approximately $75 more was needed when this was written. The more money raised the better the program of fireworks display. The entire program will consist of a full holiday for all who wish to enjoy an outing at Harmon Field. Ample room for groups of children to play and table space under shade trees for
